Home Purchase Plan Premier (HPPP)

The Sharia Compliant Mortgage Alternative

1. How our HPPP works

Our product uses the Islamic financial principles of co-ownership (Diminishing Musharaka) with leasing (Ijara). For purchases, this is where you choose the property in the normal way and apply to Al Rayan Bank to buy the property. Al Rayan Bank undertakes the usual enquiries and valuation, and then purchases the property from the seller at the price agreed between the seller and you. Both you and Al Rayan Bank contribute towards the purchase of the house as partners (e.g. 60% from Al Rayan Bank and 40% from you). The transaction is completed by Al Rayan Bank taking the title of the property in its name.

For reference, when we refer to the rent, rental review, tenant and tenancy, we are referring to the relationship between you and ourselves. We do this because Al Rayan Bank will enter into a Co-ownership Agreement with you to purchase the property, whereby Al Rayan Bank agrees to sell its share of the property to you at the same purchase price for an agreed monthly amount. Your share in the property increases with every payment made towards acquiring Al Rayan Bank's share. Both you and Al Rayan Bank enter into a Lease Agreement under which Al Rayan Bank agrees to let its share in the property to you for an agreed term, during which rent will be paid by you on a monthly basis (the rent amount will be reviewed every three months). Therefore, you will make one monthly payment comprised of two elements, rent and acquisition. The amount of rent payable by you will be reduced as your share increases. In due course, after Al Rayan Bank's entire share has been bought and all the rent has been paid under the lease, Al Rayan Bank transfers the legal title of the property to you. You also sign a Service Agency Agreement, and agree to a charge on the property in favour of Al Rayan Bank to secure the outstanding payments amount due under the HPPP agreements.

Al Rayan Bank has a dedicated Sharia Compliance Officer and a panel of respected Sharia Scholars, called the Sharia Supervisory Committee, which acts as an independent body to ensure that all of Al Rayan Bank's products and business activities are Sharia compliant.

Our HPPP has been approved by our Sharia Supervisory Committee. Please ask us if you require more information in relation to our Sharia Supervisory Committee.

2. Who is it right for?

Our HPPP could be right for you if you want to buy a holiday property in England in a way acceptable under Islamic law and you are non-resident and non-domiciled in the UK. Interest based mortgages are available in the market but do not normally comply with Islamic law. You should consider carefully whether this product is appropriate for your needs and is right for you in light of your financial position. If you are in any doubt, you should speak to someone who can give you independent professional advice.

Notes:

¹ Al Rayan Bank reserves the right to change the margin on its products; however, a cap applies of 2%. This means that Al Rayan Bank cannot increase the margin on its HPPP products by more than 2% over the margin that applied at the outset. Customers will be given at least 30 days' advance notice of any changes in the pricing structure.

² A full refund of the administration fee that has been paid will be made where the decision to decline is made by Al Rayan Bank through no fault of yours. Where the decline decision is taken because you have misrepresented yourself in the application, no refund of the administration fee will be due.

³ Where an additional acquisition payment is made, you can choose to either reduce your monthly HPPP payments, or reduce the term of your HPPP.

⁴ Additional acquisition payments are subject to a small administration fee, currently £25. Please refer to the HPPP Tariff List for details of charges.

4. What are the risks?

The rent you pay is reviewed at three monthly intervals. If the rent rate is increased, your monthly payments will increase. The rent rate may increase, decrease or stay the same at each rent review.

If you lose your job, or become ill and are prevented from working, or if the property is subject to void periods (periods where the property has no tenants), you will still have to pay your monthly payments. As a responsible finance provider, it is important that Al Rayan Bank works with you to ensure that you can afford the monthly payments. Unfortunately if circumstances occur where you do not keep up your monthly payments, ultimately you may lose your home.

We have taken all reasonable steps to ensure that your interests, including your right to occupy and / or let the property throughout the term of the plan are protected. This includes ensuring that:

- The agreements between us are legally enforceable; and
- Your increasing share in the property is properly recorded

Therefore, in the unlikely event that we sell any of our obligations or rights under HPPP (including our legal interest in the property) to a third party, you will not lose any payments you have made, your share of the property or your right to buy the property at the end of the term.

5. What are your commitments?

- You must pay a minimum deposit as required by the product you have chosen
- You must ensure that the building is insured at all times, provide us with a valid copy of the policy each year and our interest must be noted in the policy
- The building insurance policy must cover your responsibilities as a landlord (if you sub-let the property) and allow for the letting of the property
- You must make your monthly HPPP payment, which is made up of two elements:
 - Monthly purchase payment
 - Monthly rent payment

Details of the payments you must make will be provided to you in a Financial Information Statement.

6. How flexible is it?

- You can sell the property whenever you wish

- You can make quarterly additional acquisition payments subject to a minimum of £4,000 and a small administration fee of £25
- You can make full payment at any time, however,
 - You cannot have further money advanced on the plan
 - You cannot take payment holidays/breaks

7. What are the additional costs/charges?

No matter how you choose to finance the purchase of the property, there will always be some unavoidable costs and expenses. The costs listed below are the most frequent costs you will face when purchasing a property. Depending on your circumstances you may incur additional charges. For details of all charges that apply with an Al Rayan Bank Home Purchase Plan please refer to our Tariff List.

- Valuation fee – Al Rayan Bank needs to establish the value of the property, and that the property is suitable security for the transaction. To do this we will arrange for a surveyor to visit the property. The cost of the valuation depends on the property value; you can refer to our Tariff List to find out the cost of the valuation.
- Solicitor's fee – For Islamic finance, the Law Society suggests that both you and the provider should obtain separate legal advice. You will be responsible for the cost of your solicitor. You will also be responsible for the full cost of our solicitor unless it is otherwise indicated in your offer letter. For details of the charges that apply for our solicitor please refer to our Tariff List.
- Clearing House Automated Payment System (CHAPS) fee – Our solicitor uses CHAPS to transfer the finance amount to your solicitor. This incurs a small administration fee that on completion, you will be required to pay to our solicitor.
- Buildings insurance – It will be your responsibility to insure the buildings. The finance will not be released until proof of cover is provided. It will be mandatory to note the interest of Al Rayan Bank PLC on the buildings insurance. Should Al Rayan Bank be notified that the cover has ceased, Al Rayan Bank will purchase the cover and charge this to you.

8. Tax implications of Home Purchase Plan Premier

It is important that you understand the tax implications that relate to HPPP if you sub-let the property.

Al Rayan Bank is not able to provide tax information and the accompanying documentation should not be relied on in this manner. Any information that is provided is for guidance only.

If you do have concerns about the effect of sub-letting the property on your tax status, it is your responsibility to ensure that you contact your tax office, or a suitably qualified financial adviser.
